HONOLULU WOMEN SHOWING MUCH INTEREST IN PALAMA SETTLEMENT

Additions Made to Apparatus for Physical Work by Girls

The active interest shown in the Social Settlement work by the thinking people of Honolulu is noticeable even to the casual observer. In this city the center of the social work is Palama Settlement. Perhaps it has not yet occurred to many that a social settlement is a city within a city, but if one stops to think a moment the definition will seem a probable one. Before the present superintendent, Mr. James A. Rath, came here, the work at Palama was more on the religious order, but six or seven years ago the methods that for years have been used by the settlement workers in the East were started in that district.

There are still openings for improvement in the work at Palama as there are in all settlements, but with the increase of funds and with the help of more competent trained workers, those improvements will be possible. In the North End of Boston there has been organized a settlement for the purpose of giving to people of limited means the opportunity of receiving a musical education at very small cost. Among those who are keenly interested and who take part in the work of the settlement are Mr. Ernest Shermer of Boston, Alexander Steiner of Steiner & Sons, and Felix Fox of the Fox Muncie School of Music. Teachers from the New England Conservatory of Music are employed, and for the sum of twenty-five cents an hour the pupils are taught not only to play the piano but all other musical instruments.

A charge of five cents a week is made to those who practice in the settlement. Regular reports are made and no one who is not both anxious and willing to work is allowed to keep up with the lessons for there are many applicants, who, because of lack of teachers, are turned away. In this same settlement there is an orchestra composed largely of foreigners, wage earners who in time will be able to compete with the symphony orchestra. So eager are the people to progress in their music that many of the young men and women spend the majority of their leisure hours practicing, and where six hours a week were demanded the pupils put in ten and twelve.

In this same settlement the workers meet the mothers of the children certain times during the week and have social afternoons for them. A young lady who has been working in the North End of Boston for some time, tells of many interesting features of the work there. Naturally the settlements in the East are more advanced than those we have here for the work is done largely by trained workers who give their entire time to it. When necessary, legal advice is given free of charge; the sick are placed in hospitals and work is found for the unemployed. In many of the settlements there are club houses where the young people spend their leisure hours. Dramatic clubs have been formed and those who, owing to the high prices are unable to see good plays, which they probably enjoy more, acted by the people of their own class whom they know they are able to see these amateur dramatics for little or no cost. Many dancing clubs are formed in the settlements and the young people spend several evenings of the week in educational amusement. All of these things tend to uplift the moral condition of the people and in a measure seem to clear the atmosphere of the home of idleness and indolence.

Although the settlement work in Honolulu differs somewhat from the work in the East there is still a great similarity, for where they have to work for the Russians, Italians and Hebrews, much work here is done for the Hawaiian, Chinese and Japanese. Women Show Interest.

Lately many of the prominent women of Honolulu have shown much interest in the social work and certain evenings of the week several of them teach dancing at Palama. These social evenings are a pleasant recreation for boys and girls who might otherwise spend the evenings in less fortunate surroundings.

Since the new gymnasium has been built there have been basket ball contests among teams composed of girls of the settlement and as there is much splendid apparatus there the girls who spend the day in a shop are able to receive a good bit of physical training. In this same building there is a large bathing tank where the aquatic sports are enjoyed. The work that is done by the boys in Palama along the line of athletics need not be dwelt upon here for everyone knows that they are continually competing with boys in other districts, and that they always make a good showing.

The work done among the younger people in Palama naturally occupies much of the time of the superintendent and the other workers in the settlement, but it is not the only work done by them. There are many families that are cared for by the settlement, and the older people take part in all the social functions planned for the younger ones. Then, too, there are the mothers' meetings where the matrons gather and sew and talk over the things that are interesting to mothers. Although to outward appearances the settlement is quite during the summer months, it is during that time that the program for the whole year is planned.

THELMA PARKER NOW MRS. SMART

In the presence of hundreds of guests representing almost every island in the group, Thelma K. Parker, daughter of Mrs. Fred Knight, and Robert H. G. Smart of Boydon, Va., were married at 8 o'clock last night at the Parker ranch.

The ceremony was performed in 225, 10 O. R. & L. Co. 140, 21 O. R. Hill, pastor of St. Augustine's church officiating. The semblance of a church had been given to the room, the aisle, chancel and altar being reproduced in bamboo and eucalyptus with small clusters of white asters.

After the ceremony a luncheon was held on a great lagoon built for the purpose where the guests were all comfortably seated.

At 8 o'clock this morning the young couple left in an auto for the Volcano House, where the honeymoon will be spent.

ERECTING PLAYHOUSE AT MAUNALO SEMINARY

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] WAILUKU, Maui, July 25.—The new playhouse at the Maunalo Seminary given by Mrs. H. P. Baldwin in memory of her husband is being erected now. The foundations are in, and the new building promises to be one of the additions to the school that will be most heartily appreciated by both teachers and pupils.

The building is being erected on the mauka side of the present large seminary building. It will contain two rooms, one for the primary girls to play in on rainy days during their recreation hour, and one room for the larger girls to use during their recreation period.

It is the intention of the teachers to make use of these two rooms during all the rainy days that come so frequently in the winter months of the seminary year. It is possible that at some later time the room for the older girls may be used for gymnastic exercises.

A new milk-room is also being added to the seminary kitchen. This has long been needed, and will be a great addition to the culinary department.

The chimney which proved so dangerous during the last week of the school year, and which came near being the cause of a serious conflagration, is being all torn down. A new heavily-built chimney is being erected at a little distance from the kitchen. This is a great improvement and will insure perfect safety from fire in the future.

It is usually safe to judge a man by his manners.

WAILUKU SUGAR CO. GIVES DANCE

Three Hundred People Enjoy Hospitality Which is to Be Annual Feature

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] WAILUKU, July 25.—The dance given by the management and staff of the Wailuku Sugar Company last Saturday evening at the Sugar Room at the Wailuku Mill was a most pleasing affair. The great room was fitted out with an excellent dancing floor, upon which nearly three hundred people enjoyed themselves until a late hour. The music was the best on Maui, and everyone said that they never enjoyed a dance more than this one given by the Wailuku Sugar Company.

The decorations were extremely artistic. Two enormous American flags were draped over the front entrance. Streamers of flags of all descriptions were flying across the sugar room. The pretty sight reminded one of the decorations of a large ship on some gala occasion. The music boys were placed in the middle of the huge dining floor. Seats for those who did not dance were arranged at either end. At the side was a large number of seats arranged for onlookers. These were filled to overflowing with the plantation laborers, who greatly enjoyed the fun of the evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

At the time the mill was new and first opened the management gave a dance to the public. Since then the plantation has not given such a function until last Saturday. It is understood that the dance or a similar form of entertainment is now to be an annual feature, which will certainly be looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure.

The invitation sent out this year were much appreciated, for all Maui turned out to the delightful affair, which was a decided success.

MR. ANDERSON GIVES DINNER TO FRIENDS

Mr. Joseph S. Anderson of San Francisco gave a very pleasant dinner last evening at the Rathskeller complimentary to some of his Honolulu friends.

The scheme of the dinner was a combination of California and Hawaii, the idea being worked out most beautifully on the hand-painted menu cards prepared by Mr. Anderson and no less effectively in the menu of good things, which of course included the world famous Apollinaris water. The menu and place card presented the California poppy waving over a surfing scene from Waikiki beach. Hawaii was represented in the menu by a red Kilauea cocktail, followed by Apollinaris water, and other Hawaiian viands as follows:

Hawaiian Alligator Pear
Salted Almonds Olives Radishes
Chicken Broth Molokai
Oahu Crab Meat Creole
Maui Chicken Casserole
Corn Sauté Potatoes au Gratin
Fruit Salad Honolulu
Cafe Parfait Demi Tasse Kona
Mr. Anderson had as his guests Mr. P. A. Swift, manager H. May & Co., Mr. J. D. McInerney, President of the Country Club, Mr. Fred Waldron, President of the Commercial Club, Mr. Jos. Schwartz, Jos. Schwartz, Ltd.; W. R. Farrington, Business Manager Star-Bulletin, C. S. Crane, Business Manager Hawaiian Gazette Co., Mr. A. J. Gignoux, President of the Merchants' Association, Mr. E. J. Morgan, Manager Hollister Drug Co., and Mr. J. H. Hertsche, Manager Alexander Young Hotel.

Mr. Anderson with his family has had a very pleasant visit in the city and included in his itinerary a trip to the Volcano. He is most enthusiastic over the climate and everything else he has found in Hawaii, his only regret being that his business requires that he shall depart on the Sierra, leaving tomorrow.

BECKLEY CHIPMUNK CAUGHT AT ST. FRANCIS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Just where the little chipmunk that escaped from Mrs. George Beckley's apartments in the St. Francis a month ago has been hiding is a mystery, but the politicians consulting with Colonel Charles Mifflin Hammond on the best way to elect President Taft were astonished to see the same animal jump through the window and chase up the curtain.

This little chipmunk created consternation one month ago by sneaking into Miss Florence Roberts' apartment, and rescuers found the actress perched on a writing table tossing manuscripts at the intruder. The chipmunk showed yesterday that he was still on the job. Colonel Hammond reached for it in vain. Dan Sullivan and Jack Boronda, two bellboys, succeeded in taking the animal into custody.

The chipmunk will not wander again about the St. Francis for he has been sent to the pound.

De Style—Do you think women will take part in the coming campaign? Gunbusta—I know two that will—Anna Nias and Molly Coddle.

City Editor—Hi, Sims! Sims (the reporter)—Yes, sir, City Editor—Go down to the hotel and interview that magnate and get his denial of the interview at the same time. Scoot, now!

RAYMOND FREED FROM SHACKLES

Deputy Chief of Detectives Kellet, Officer Fred Weed, Apana, and a galaxy of bright young men connected with the local police department sat up and took much notice, as the Great Raymond, in but a few minutes freed himself from nearly fifty pounds of iron and steel shackles, on the Liberty Theater stage last evening.

Raymond got out of his bondage of steel last evening about as easy as the average politician squares himself with his constituents on the eve of a city and county election.

Raymond, was also watched by a committee of well known residents in order to prevent outside assistance being called to unlock the array of leg iron, oregon boots, plain and complicated hand cuffs and other articles of prison jewelry and adornment.

In addition to this series of tests, Raymond was applauded in his presentation of several new and startling illusions. He maintained his justly famed reputation for an interesting line of patter. One of his specialties last evening, was the removal of an almost complete stock of drygoods, notions and ladies and children wearing apparel from the "bowler" hat belonging to Manager McGreer. Were McGreer permitted to retain the articles he might well enter the lists as a retail merchant.

Raymond, told his patrons and spectators that they might look for a complete change of program, this evening and on Saturday night.

SCHOFIELD NOTES

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, July 25.—Work upon the new amusement hall, 2nd Infantry cantonment, is rapidly being completed. The men of the 2nd Foot are anxiously awaiting the finishing touch, as it will add greatly to their few amusements. It is certainly a credit to Schofield.

Co. C, 1st Infantry, returned today from a short practice march. The men of the First certainly enjoy seeing the tropical scenery on Oahu. Oh, you Vancouver!

Dan Davis, teamster, was thrown from his wagon last Tuesday and is now nursing a broken arm. His mules were frightened by an automobile and gave a leap which threw him off the wagon.

There will be a ball game next Sunday. Fifth Cavalry vs. First Field Artillery, on the Fifth Cavalry ball grounds. The game promises to be a hot one, and all the post fans will be on the job.

The Second Infantry has about completed its target season for the year. The First Infantry will take the range on or about the 15th of August.

WILL BUILD ANNEX TO KAIULANI HOME

An annex to the Kaiulani Home is to be erected at Palama at the foot of Robello street and will be conducted along the same lines as the home on King and South streets, according to the trustees who have approved plans for the new structure.

Home comforts and influences will be features of the new structure which will be for the exclusive use of working girls. In addition to the dormitory quarters there will be a cafeteria.

Funds for the erection of the new home have been furnished by businessmen of the city.

Most people enjoy warmed-over love almost as well as they do hash.

OLD FAVORITE IS WELCOMED

When Teddy McNamara stepped before the footlights at the Bijou theatre last evening, during the clever presentation of "Sergeant Brue," the young actor was greeted with applause coming from his wide circle of admirers in this city, who have not forgotten the inimitable Teddy, as a youngster with the smaller edition of the Pollards, who visited Honolulu some years ago.

McNamara served to enliven the comedy, to the extent that he added several songs, new to many Honoluluans. "Sergeant Brue" appeals to a sufficient number of people in this city to insure a fair return to the box office, judging from the fact that the comedy is to continue throughout the week.

Teddy is the logical Mikado, in the charming and ever green Mikado, which is to follow next week. In this role his friends in this city play to again renew acquaintance with the Pollards and their operas, (judging from the advance sale).

A number of pleasing changes in the specialties have been incorporated in the presentation of "Sergeant Brue" for tonight and Saturday evening.

Gibbs—One gets no diplomas in the School of Experience. Dibs—I don't know; the marriage certificate comes pretty near being one.

"Have you a fireless cooker?" "Yes; we're afraid to discharge her."

Father—I never smoked when I was your age. Will you be able to tell that to your son?
Willie—Not and keep my face as straight as you do, pop!
